This year two Bishop's Crosses were awarded: one to Ms. Mary Lu Jarvis, Saint Paulø Cathedral and former President of the National Altar Guild Organization; and, the other was awarded to The Very Reverend Kevin Martin. Both Dean Kevin Martin and Ms. Jarvis received a standing ovation and enthusiastic applause after a brief word of thanks.

The Rev. Blake Woods, Chaplain at Saint Anselm's Canterbury, Norman. The Rev. Woods moved to amend the budget document to increase the budget line-item for Vocare/Altered (Young Adult Retreat) from $1500.00 to $3000.00. The money would be taken from the line item "Guitar Weekend".

The Rev. Dwight Helt, Saint John's Norman, seconded the motion.

The Amendment carried by voice vote.

Mr. Mark Laufesweiller, St. John's, Norman, asked a question for clarification with regards to Saint Crispin's Summer Camp Program: What accounted for the increase in the budget regarding the camping program and what underlies the primary financial support of camp - the Mutual Ministry Fund or camper fees?

Mr. Henry Baer responded that the money in the budget reflects what the Diocese supplements from the Mutual Ministry Fund in addition to camper fees. Sabrina Evans reported the number of campers has increased over the last three years.

Bishop called the question on the Budget. The Budget was passed by a voice vote.

Mr. Henry Baer moved the adoption of the Mutual Ministry Support rate of 17.5% for the 2013-2014 year. The motion was adopted by a voice vote.

76rd ANNUAL MEETING

CONVENTION of the DIOCESE OF OKLAHOMA

Embrace Christ, Engage the World

November 1st and 2nd, 2013

Bishop's Address

Let us pray:

Awaken us O lord:

*To the beauty of Your creation;
To the diversity of Your people;
To the abundance of Your resources;*

Awaken us O lord:

*To our blindness of Your creation;
To our intolerance of Your people;
To our abuse of Your resources;*

Awaken us O Lord:

*To the Power of Your Holy Spirit;
To the Presence of Your Love;
To our ability to make a difference.*

Amen

This is my seventh address as your Bishop to this convention.

The Canons state that "At each Annual Meeting of the Diocesan Convention the Bishop Diocesan shall make a report of the State of the Diocese since the last Annual Meeting of the Convention; including the names of the Congregations visited; the number of persons confirmed and received; the names of those who have been admitted as Postulants and Candidates for Holy Orders, of those ordained, and of those suspended or deposed from Holy Orders; the changes by death, removal, or otherwise, which have taken place among the Clergy; and other matters the Bishop desires to present to the Convention; which statement shall be inserted in the journal." I confess to you that "over the past few weeks I have struggled with what I would like to share with you today"; the necessity that it be written down for publication has only made it more difficult; it is not my normal practice to write out a full text before saying what I think I am supposed to say; for those of you who have heard me preach you know this could be a good thing or a bad thing! I always know when it's been a good thing by the expression on Debbie's face; You can imagine for yourselves what that face looks like when I have missed the mark! ..

There is a part of me saying, and keeps saying, just take one thing, one ministry at a time and give a litany of all the Good Works and accomplishments in the diocese this past year.

Talk about the momentum we have gained in our efforts of Church Growth and Development; of the revitalized work at Christ Church here in Tulsa;

the fact that after more than a decade, maybe longer, there is once again a full-time priest in the Pan Handle of Oklahoma at St. Stephen's Church in Guymon and the church is touching a population of people we have never before engaged; or about the intentional re-start of Church of the Savior in Yukon, now newly named Grace Church, and the new sort of the box strategies being implemented to bring people of this growing community into a relationship with Jesus Christ.

You could talk about the first Graduating Class from the School of IONA and that there are currently more than 30 people in various stages of the Holy Orders Process.

I could report that in response to General Convention Resolution A-049, we formed a Committee of Lay and Clergy representatives; engaged in a Diocesan Wide Listening Process; established a protocol for Congregational Discernment; and put into place policies to bless the faithful, committed relationships of our Gay and Lesbian brothers and sisters. Five congregations have now faithfully engaged that process of discernment.

I could update the progress of our improvements to St. Crispin's.

That the Rope's Course is completed and in use; the lakes again are completely full after repairs to the dams; that our waste disposal is actually disposing of the waste; That the Youth of our Diocese spent time creating and building a Labyrinth for use by those seeking spiritual reflection.

I would want to share that every day improvements are being made to enhance the St. Crispin's experience for all who would visit that remarkable place.

And I would be excited to share that in the last year we have received commitments and gifts in excess of $5 million dollars towards new Youth Facilities and a new Dining Hall.

I wouldn't want to forget to mention the response of so many of you with your resources and physical presence to the victims of the devastating storms and tornadoes this past year. Because of the generosity of people from around the world: From Uruguay to Japan to the UK to Taiwan to Dioceses and Churches and individuals from all over the United States, we have been able to reach and provide much needed assistance to those who have suffered. And we continue to reach out to them. With a grant from Episcopal Relief and Development we are partnering with other organizations to intentionally provide the long term support and assistance needed following these types of disasters. As we all know, physical, emotional and spiritual recovery can take years.

So, maybe there is something to this approach:

Just list everything off that is going on in the Diocese and Celebrate!

Celebrate our ministries to Youth and Children:

Summer Camp; New Beginnings; Happening; ðAlteredö; ðEpiscoposseö, Mission Camp; ðEpiscopopepsö; our Youth Leadership Academy

Celebrate our commitment to education in our schools: Casady, Holland Hall, Oak Hall, St. Dunstanø, St. Johnø, and St. Maryøí

Celebrate the care and comfort we offer our residents at St. Simeonø and Ardmore Village.

Celebrate how we acknowledge and respond to the less fortunate in our communities at Iron Gate and Open Gate; through St. Georgeø Guild and Loaves and Fishesí Celebrate how we seek to break the cycles of life that can be destructive through Bridges out of Poverty, our Prison Ministries, and New Hope.

Celebrate! When we celebrate, after all, we do have a lot to be thankful forí

So, whatø wrong with you Ed, with all this, why do you struggle, why do you struggle with what you want to shareí .

I struggle, because in spite of all these ministries and much more that we do here in Oklahoma in this Diocese, there doesnø seem to be a day that goes by when I am not reminded of the judgmental attitudes, the intolerant behaviors, and violence in our society.

There doesnø seem to be a day that goes by where we donø hear about some place, somewhere, where we have failed to love our neighbors; to strive for justice and peace; or respect the dignity of others.

This has not always been the case for me. It was always pretty easy for me to read the paper or watch the news and observe the events going on in the world around me and just let them pass by without much more than a fleeting thought. After all, I was a cop for nearly twenty years. I saw this stuff every day.

It doesnø take long to build emotional walls and protective barriers to insulate you from feeling anything.

Last year I began our convention with this prayer:

Disturb us, Lord, when we are too pleased with ourselves,
When our dreams have come true because we dreamed too little,
when we arrived safely because we sailed too close to the shore.

Disturb us, Lord, when with the abundance of things we possess
we have lost our thirst for the waters of life;
Having fallen in love with life, we have ceased to dream of eternity and in our efforts to build a new earth, we have allowed our vision of the new Heaven to dim.

Disturb us, Lord, to dare more boldly, to venture on wilder seas where storms will show your mastery; where losing sight of land, we shall find stars.

We ask you to push back the horizons of our hopes;
and to push back the future in strength, courage, hope, and love.

This we ask in the name of our Captain, Who is Jesus Christ.

When I offered this prayer I didn't know that I would be the one to be "Disturbed"; that maybe my dreams were too small; my thirst too little; and my vision too dim.

My struggle began around March of this year, when the Bishop of Connecticut, Ian Douglas, called to ask me to be part of a presentation at our Spring House of Bishops Meeting in response to the tragic events in Newtown, Connecticut.

In case you have forgotten, On December 14th last year, a young 20 year old man entered Sandy Hook Elementary school and fatally shot twenty students and six adults.

Bishop Douglas asked if I would speak from my experience as a Police Officer, my thoughts on Gun control and Violence in our society. In all honesty, I was reluctant to accept his invitation. I shared with him that he might want to rethink this. After all, I was a former cop and on more than one occasion have been accused of being a "gun-toting Bishop".

With a little persuasion and encouragement Ian convinced me that my voice and my experience might add something to the conversation.

What I was not prepared for, was discovering the internal conflict raging inside me

The incident at Sandy Hook Elementary School was not the first of these kinds of incidents in our society

In 1966, a former Marine killed 16 people and wounded 30 others at the University of Texas

In 1973, a 23 year old man killed nine people at a Howard Johnson Motel

In 1986, a part-time mail carrier killed 14 postal workers in a post office in Edmond, Oklahoma

In 1999, two young men; 18 and 17 years old, killed 12 students and a teacher at Columbine High school in Colorado

In 2007: A 23 year old student killed 32 people at Virginia Tech University

In 2009: A man killed 13 and wounded 4 at an Immigrant Community Center in New York.

In 2012: A 23 year old man killed 12 and wounded 58 in a movie theatre in Aurora, Colorado

These are just a few and there have been many many more since. In the last 30 years there have been more than 60 mass killings in our country, and this does not even begin to take into account the single acts of violence resulting in the loss of life, or wounding, or maiming that occurs every day in our cities, towns, and communities across this country.

And we in Oklahoma are not immune to senseless acts of violence. The memory of Christopher Lane, a student and baseball player killed in Duncan, Oklahoma is all too recent.

So what was it that happened to me that stirred up this turmoil?

As I began to reflect and prepare my remarks for that House of Bishops meeting, I began to discover that there were cracks in those walls. The walls that I had spent ten years meticulously building. My protective barriers became weakened; and as I dug deeper and thought harder I was no longer able to ignore the feelings, emotions, or the fear so present within my soul.

As I looked into the faces of my grandchildren I wondered what we were doing. What were they in for?

At that House of Bishops Meeting I started my remarks with:

You should know I am a gun owner; I have a CCW Permit; and I occasionally carry a gun when traveling throughout the state of Oklahoma;

Probably not the most popular thing to say given the circumstances and events that was the catalyst for this conversation.

And then I went on to share some of my experience:

In 1979, one of my best friends and fellow Police Officer, Don Reed, agreed to swap shifts with me so I could have a weekend off to of all things, play in a Police Softball Tournament. During that shift, Don responded to a call at a local bar where he confronted a man who was later determined that he was a convicted felon, recently released from prison, and who had recently purchased several guns. As Don was escorting the man out of the bar with other officers, the man took a semi-automatic handgun out from under his coat and shot Don several times in the chest. Don died at the scene. The suspect eluded police for several days, but was eventually captured, convicted, and sentenced to life in prison.

In 1982, as the lead investigator working on a Crime Task Force I was assigned the case of a prison escapee who was a serial rapist. The suspect was reportedly responsible for more than 20 brutal rapes, usually pistol whipping his victims in the two weeks following his escape. Early on a Sunday morning I received a tip from an informant that the suspect was heading to the Santa Ana area of Orange County. Staking out the area with other officers, the suspect appeared in the stolen vehicle of his most recent victim. A pursuit ensued with the suspect losing control of his vehicle and crashing into a telephone pole. The suspect exited his vehicle and in an exchange of gun fire, he was shot and killed.

In 1991, a couple of days before I was to leave the Police Department for seminary, I was dispatched to a Check the Welfare call. Family members had been unable to contact a brother who had been suffering from depression. Getting no responses from knocks on the door, we checked and found the front door of the residence unlocked. Upon opening the door the man appeared directly in front of me pointing a rifle pointed at my head. The man pulled the trigger but the gun misfired. The man was subsequently arrested and given a psychiatric evaluation. It was later determined he had been suffering from Mental Illness for years, yet was still able to purchase a gun.

As I made these remarks to my fellow Bishops, a flood of emotions began to well up within me and I came face to face with my reality: I live everyday knowing that I share responsibility for the taking of a human life; and but for the Grace of God I would not be standing here today.

These incidents, the tragedy of Sandy Hook, and all the other incidents of violence, and hatred, and intolerance, and death seemed to collide within me; and I was left wondering how we got here. What have we as a people failed to do or not do that causes someone to think that their only option is to act out in some violent way?

And then there was this question: "What are you going to do about it?"

For years these tragedies have been occurring, and while there may have been momentary calls for changes in laws or political rhetoric, what seems to be happening is that our world, our society; our communities are willing to accept this as the new norm. That we should all just get used to it because it is going to happen again, again, and again!

I am not willing to accept that! .. I refuse to feel powerless; that I cannot make a difference; or have an influence!

I refuse because I know better! I refuse because I have seen lives change and relationships restored through the very ministries which I have already listed and spoken about.

I have seen youth who have felt outcast and lonely and unworthy come to know that they are beloved children of God, cared for, and respected, and valued through our summer camp program.

I have seen teenagers and young adults caught in the vicious cycles of life, given a new sense of purpose and respect through programs like New Hope.

I have seen adults incarcerated for the mistakes that they made in their lives renewed, reconciled, and restored by the ministry of those willing to go into our prisons and jails to share the love of Jesus Christ.

I have seen how the faces of the homeless light up when they are treated with dignity and respect.

I am not willing to accept that we are destined to suffer the tragedies that have plagued our society.

Instead I am convinced that we can change the judgmental attitudes, the intolerant behaviors, and the violence in our society.

Each and every one of us has the power to make a difference. We do it by Proclaiming by word and example the Good News of God in Christ. We do it by seeking and serving Christ in all people, loving our neighbors as ourselves. We do it by striving for justice and peace among all people and respecting the dignity of every human being.

These words may sound familiar. They should. They are the foundations of our Baptismal Covenant.

You see, we don't have to figure out what to do; we just have to do that which we have already promised to do.

Each and everyone one of us here has the ability to make a difference; one person, one life at a time. The time is now.

We didn't get to where we are today overnight, or in a year or even a decade. It has taken generations.

And there are those who would say to us, we're not going to change it overnight or in a year or in a decade. It is going to take generations. Somebody somewhere once said: If not now, when? If not me, who?

It is time that we as people of faith stand up and proclaim something new to the hurt and broken and violent world.

It is time that we as people of faith reclaim that which we have been blessed and given.

It is time that we begin the new conversation and that our voices instill a new mantra in the world: That all are created in the image of God, that all people are children of God, and all deserve respect and dignity.

A few months ago a couple of bishops, some lay people and few clergy gathered in Maryland and we asked the question: If not now, when; if not us, who? And we decided that we needed to be a new voice, a relevant voice. One that spoke of a new way of living together in relationships of our world societies.

And the way that we are going to begin is that next April here in the Diocese of Oklahoma in partnership with 14 other Dioceses, the Presiding Bishop and the Archbishop of Canterbury. We are going to host "Reclaiming the Gospel of Peace, an Episcopal gathering to challenge the epidemic of violence."

Episcopalians from across this country, from abroad, are going to gather together to begin something new, a new conversation, a new voice, a new challenge to the violence in our world society of today.

The theme of this gathering is: "Embrace Christ, Engage the World"

May we find the strength and courage to do so.
Amen .
